Gertrude Coghlan, who is so well remembered here for her charming rendition of the part of Becky Sharpe. Thackeray's famous heroine, will be the attraction at the Academy to-night, to-morrow matinee and night.

At the matinee to-morrow a handsome cabinet photograph of Miss Coghlan will be given every holder of an orchestial year. These souvenirs will be especially valuable to theatre-goers who are making collections of the pictures of their favorite actors and actresses.

actors and actresses.

Miss Coghlan has achieved a reputation Aliss Cognian has antived a control of making most elaborate productions of her plays, and the high standard which she got with "Becky Sharp." and "Collinete" she has maintained with her latest success, "The Sword of Justice."

"A Son of Rest."

That unique comedian, and his excellent company of sixty people is announced as the attraction for Mouday night. He will present to us Managers Broadhurst and Currie's musical comedy, "A Son of Rest," which has scored most auspiciously in the larger northern cities. "When Johnny Comes Marching Home."

There are bits of every war song of forty years ago from "Marching Through Georgia," to "When Johnny Comes Marching Home," together with strains from the old fashioned negro melodies in the score of the new comic opera "When Johnny Comes Marching Home." which will be presented by the Whitney Opera Company at the Academy Tuesday, Wednesday, and Wednesday matinee, November 10th and 11th.

Viola Allen Coming.

Occasionally complaint is made regarding the abridgment of a Shakespeare play. The reason for this is that the person making it does not take into account the fact that no modern auditor will endure

The Night Betore Christillas.

The Washington Times, in a criticism of the play which comes to the Bijou Theatr, next week, says:

"The Night Before Christmas" is the attraction at the Empire this week, and both performances yesterday gave satisfaction. The show is well mounted, and more care is taken in surrounding the characters with appropriate stage settings than is usual with such productions.

Henry Peck and others of the musical company entertained two audiences at the Bijou Theatre yesterday—matinee and night. The play will be repeated inight and twice to-morrow.
